Bertha's Graveyard.

Bertha Dickinson was a decided enemy of tobacco. She used to say she hated it. Now hate is a strong, bad word, I know. My mother has often said to me, "My dear you must hate nothing but sin," and I never use the word without thinking of my dear mother and her advice. But I think, as Bertha did, that it is quite proper to say "hate," in speaking of tobacco, for it is a terrible poison, and injures more people, body and soul too, than folks are willing to believe. And then it is so nasty! There! that is another word which my mother never liked to hear me use. She said it wasn't a "pretty word;" but I can't help using it when I speak of tobacco, and Bertha always did too.

But she did something besides hating it and calling it bad names. She tried to persuade every one who used it to give it up. She was a queer child. She never acted like other children, but had a way all her own, which sometimes made folks laugh, and sometimes cry, and always made them shake their heads, and say, "What an odd little thing Bertha Dickinson is!"

She took a notion into her head one day that she would have a little graveyard all her own. There was quite a piece of ground in the old garden behind the house, where nothing was planted. There was a long row of blackberry bushes which hid this corner from the house windows, and she used often to go down there to play alone. It was one day after she had been to visit Samuel Hill, the village undertaker, that she got the idea of having the graveyard. She went straight off to the woods and brought home four pretty little hackmetack trees, which she planted in the four corners of the lot she had chosen, and then, happening to think it would be better to secure the ground by asking her father to give it to her, she went in pursuit of him.

"Papa! papa!" she called aloud, as he was threshing grain in the barn; "Papa, will you give me the northwest corner of the garden?"

"The what, child?"

"The north-west corner of the old garden, papa. It is bounded on the north by the seek-no-further appletree, east by the walk, south by the blackberry bushes, and west by the sweet corn field,"

There was a general laugh at the conclusion of this speech. Father and all the threshers stopped their work, and held their sides, while such peals of laughter resounded through the great barn as brought mamma and Hepsey out to see what was the matter.

"You needn't make fun of me," exclaimed Bertha, "I tried to be particular, just to save you the trouble of going down."

"Bertha wants me to deed her the north-west corner of the garden, mother," said Mr. Dickinson, as soon as he could speak; "are you ready to sign the papers?"

"What do you want it for, deary," asked mother. "Are you going to build a doll-house?" Her mother knew that particular spot was her little girl's favorite resort, and that scarcely a day passed but the dollies were taken there too. So she thought, of course, that Bertha, with her queer ideas, was planning some sort of a dwelling for them. She was quite unprepared for the answer, and the roar of laughter, which was repeated, as the child looked up very meekly, and replied:

"I want it for a graveyard, mamma."

When father had recovered the power of speech, he pursued his inquiries further.

"What are you going to bury, dear?"

Quick as a flash of light, Bertha picked up her father's pipe which lay on the wooden bench by the door. "This first," said she, and off she ran.

So quick was her motion, and the words that accompanied it, that no one of the amused group perceived what she had done, and as she flitted down the garden walk thought only that she was running from their mirth.

But when work was done, and the farmer was ready for his evening smoke, the pipe was nowhere to be found.

"Where's my pipe? Who's seen my pipe?" shouted father up and down the yard, in no very pleasant tones.

"I buried it, papa, in my new graveyard," said the child coolly. "Come and see."

The heavy steps of the tired man, and the trip-trip of the little girl's feet fell together on the garden walk, as they proceeded to the north-west corner of the garden, where Bertha pointed to a neat little mound about a foot long, nicely rounded and turfed, at the head of which was placed a bit of shingle with the inscription:—

"Here lies
My Father's Pipe.
Rest forever."

The astonished parent was at a loss what to say. He hesitated whether to laugh or chide. He finally concluded to do neither, but to try to get at the child's meaning in all this. So, sitting down on an overturned wheelbarrow, he took Bertha on his knees, and began to question her.

"Why did you do so, child?"

"Because, papa, I didn't want you to die, as Mr. Thurston did, of pipe. It's a fact, papa," seeing a smile gathering in his eye. "I heard Dr. Bell say so when we were coming home from the funeral. Miss Stevens asked him what ailed Mr. Thurston, and Dr. Bell said, 'Pipe, Miss Stevens, pipe. He smoked himself out of this world into—well, Miss Stevens, I can't say exactly where he has gone. If folks get so used to their pipes here in this world, I dont see what they are going to do in the other. Seems to me they'll want to keep up the smoking, but I'm most sure they can't do it in Heaven; for you know, Miss Stevens, Heaven is a veay clean place, and they're not going to let anything in there that defileth. So I don't know.' Now, papa, you see I want you to be my papa a long, long while first before you die, and then I want you to go to Heaven. So you see, I thought I'd dig a grave and bury the old pipe. You won't dig it up, will you, papa?"

The farmer held his peace for a few minutes. Then he spoke slowly, but firmly:—

"No, Bertha, your father is no grave-robber. I shall miss the old pipe; but I suppose I must say about it as we do about everything that's put in the grave, 'Thy will be done.'"

"That's good, papa," said the child with a kiss. "Now I have a good, clean, everlasting papa. Ain't everlasting what we call things that don't die?" she added, again perceiving a smile.

"Yes, dear, but then none of us are everlasting, exactly, we all have to wither and die some time."

"Why, no, papa; don't the Bible say we shall live forever?"

"Was that what you wanted this great graveyard, for?" asked father, smiling again, and seeking to divert the conversation, which he feared might get beyond his depth. "Was it only to bury that old pipe?"

"No, indeed," exclaimed Bertha earnestly. "I'm going to bury lots of such things here. I expect I shall have a funeral almost every day. I'm going to bury old Aunt Smith's snuff-box next."

"How will you get it?"

"Oh, I'll get it; I'll manage, papa. And there's Joe's tobacco, and Uncle Ned's cigar, and lots more of the nasty things."

Bertha proved a busy little undertaker, and before a week had passed more than a dozen interments had been made in the new cemetery. The graves are all made evenly, side by side, exactly the same size, nicely rounded and turfed, and, at the head of each a tiny board on which was printed with pen and ink some simple epitaph. These headboards cost the little girl a great deal of time and labor. On one was "Aunty Smith's snuff-box. Closed forever." On another, "Joe Tanner's pigtail. Lost to view." On the next, "Cyrus Ball's cigar. Burned out." All were equally characteristic.

The north-west corner lot was at length full. Over sixty neat little graves were there in rows as regular as the children's graves in Greenwood. The seek-no-futher spread a friendly shade over the spot, and the blackberries ripened beside them; and many and many a visitor was taken slyly down the garden-walk to see Bertha's graveyard. But the very best part of the whole was that for every little mound in that quiet spot there stood a man or woman redeemed from an evil habit, a living monument above it, and all alike bearing testimony to the faithfulness and perseverance of a queer little girl, the haterof tobacco, the lover of purity and health. H. E. B.

California's Vast Resources.

On this subject the Los Angeles Herald discourses as follows: "Perhaps few of the most observant of California's residents have ever carefully examined and classified her many and varied resources. The person who does this will be slow to believe that the people of the Pacific Coast will ever suffer by a real monetary panic. We ought to export everything and import next to nothing. Within the area extending from San Diego to Siskiyou, almost everything known to or classed among the vegetable kingdom will grow and attain maturity. Between the Ocean's beach and the summit of the Sierras almost every metal known to the mineral kingdom is found in vast quantities. What should be the future of a country so favored? A country with such vast resources ought to be the paradise of earth and its people ought to enjoy the highest degree of happiness vouchsafed to mortals. With a climate ranging from the tropical to the temperate, and with products ingeneous to both zones, what need we import in the way of vegetables? With mountains of gold and silver, broad leads of copper, wide veins of lead, hills of iron and fields of coal; with broad valleys of soil, the productions of which are unequaled anywhere in the world; with a grazing region capable of supporting millions of head of stock; with a climate adapted to the growth of sheep, fine-wooled goats and silk-worms, why should we send abroad the yield of our mines for wearing apparel? Perhaps no country in the world has within itself more of the necessaries and luxuries of life than California. If there were an insurmountable barrier thrown around our State, we could not want for meat, drink, or wearing apparel. If compelled to do so we could draw on our own resources not only for the staples but for the luxuries of life. Some day we shall learn to wear our own flannels and silks, eat our own fruit and vegetables and drink the wine pressed from the grapes of our own vineyards; and when we have done this we shall not send the gold and silver of our mines abroad at the rate of from thirty to forty millions per year, and we shall become rich, respectable and independent.

GOOD EATING VERSUS WRINKLES. The penchant of the fair sex for good living has something in it of instinct. A series of exact and rigorous observations has demonstrated that a succulent diet, delicate and well attended to, repulses for a long time and very far the exterior appearances of old age. It gives more brilliancy to the eyes, to the skin more freshness, to the muscles more support; and as it is certain in physiology, that wrinkles, those formidable enemies of beauty, are due to the depression of the muscles, it is equally true to say, all things equal, that those who know how to eat are comparatively ten years younger than those to whom this science is a stranger. Painters and sculptors are well aware of this fact, for they never represent those who are abstinent, from choice or duty, as misers and anchorites, without giving them the paleness of sickness, the leanness of misery, and the wrinkles of decrepitude.

FISH FLOUR.—A novel and remarkable article of food, prepared from the products of the ocean, has lately been brought prominently forward—this is fish flour. It is not as yet manufactured in any great quantity, as the article is new in the market, and consequently there is no great demand for it. The flour is prepared in Norway, from dried codfish of the first quality; it is thoroughly desiccated and then ground in a mill. There are two qualities, the coarse and the fine-ground. It is especially the former which has found favor with the public; from it an excellent dish of preserved fish can in a short time be prepared; while the finest ground is used for fish puddings, a dish highly appreciated in Norway and Sweden. In Catholic countries, in localities where there is no regular supply of fresh fish, it is presumed this article will be more particularly important.

A DARNING MACHINE.—Knitting machines have become familiar household articles, and now a Boston man has supplemented them with a darning machine which was exhibited at the late fair of the American Institute of New York, and is thus described by the Scientific American: "Two small plates, one stationary and the other movable. The faces are corrugated, and between them the "holy" portion of the stocking is laid. Twelve long-eyed pointed needles are arranged side by side in a frame, which last is carried forward so that the needles penetrate opposite edges of the hole, passing in the corrugations between the plates. Hinged just in front of the plates is an upright bar, and on this is a cross-piece carrying twelve knobs. The yarn is secured to an end knob, and then, with a piece of flat wire, pushed through the needle eyes. Then the loop between each two needles is caught by the hand and hooked over the opposite knob, so that each needle carries really two threads. Now the needles are carried back to their first position, and in so doing, they draw the threads, which slip off the knob through the edges of the fabric. A little push forward again brings the sharp rear edges of the needle eye against all the threads, cutting all at once. This is repeated until the darn is finished, and beautifully finished it is. The cost of the machine is but ten dollars.

CENTRAL AMERICAN UNITED STATES. The movement commenced recently by Guatemala for a revival of the federation of the five States of Central America has been enthusiastically adopted by the administration of Salvador, an administration that has done more than that of any of the other Central American States, in the last few years, in the way of promoting peace and progress in that country. In accepting the proposition, the President of Salvador writes to the Minister of Foreign Affairs for Guatemala, offering his capital as the place of meeting of the delegates to consummate the federation, and says that he will heartily welcome the time of meeting. The real friends of these States have long considered such a union indispensable to their welfare. Our Government now sends but one Minister to represent our interest to the whole of these States. In case the United States opens a ship canal from sea to sea across Nicaragua, as is now proposed, these States will assume an importance they do not now possess in this country, and this movement for a new confederation will be watched with interest by our Government.—Call.

PREPARING.—Philadelphia is getting ready to feed and lodge all creation next year. It calculates that at least 125,000 people can be comfortably lodged—that is, 35,000 in the hotels and 90,000 in private houses. As to feeding, one restaurant promises 50,000 meals a day, and others carry up the total to 200,000. A company has invested $200,000 in poultry, packed frozen in a White Mountain storehouse, and to be sent on in detachments by refrigerators next summer. Another firm has 150,000 hams in store for the summer raid. The way the Philadelphians figure it is this: 20,000 fresh arrivals every day during the show, each one to stay ten days and spend $5 per day—this makes a million a day, or two hundred millions for the whole season! This is wild talk, though seriously put out.

STATE PRINTING OFFICE.—A look through the new printing office in Sacramento the other day satisfied us that it is a splendid establishment with all its new material and appointments, and under the management of Superintendent Thompson will be a source of much saving to the State in the expense of public printing.

Assembly Committees.

The Speaker, Mr. Carpenter, has appointed the following Committees:

Elections — Wetherill, McKenna, Blue, Watkins, John Patterson, Covington, Dunlap.

Claims — Clunie, Crutcher, Chapman, Abbott, McMann, Hayne, Clarken, Sargent, Birney.

Judiciary—McConnell, Archer, Swan, Clunie, Harding, Murphy, Scrivner, McKenna, Hart, Chapman, Harris, Carter and Carlson.

ASPARAGUS FOR RHEUMATISM.—A medical correspondent of an English journal says that the advantages of asparagus are not sufficiently appreciated. Those who suffer with rheumatism are cured in a few days by feeding on this delicious esculent; and many chronic cases are much relieved, especially if the patient avoids all acids, whether in food or beverage. The Jerusalem artichoke has a similar effect in relieving rheumatism. It may be well to remark that most plants which grow naturally near the sea-coast contain more or less iodine, and in all rheumatic complaints iodine has long been a favorite remedy. One who has been in the drug business told the writer some years ago that many of the popular patent nostrums which some disinterested people—"for the good of their fellow creatures"—sold at two dollars a bottle, consisted simply of a few cents' worth of iodine in solution. Iodine is dangerous, however, in overdoses, affecting especially the eye.

HINTS FOR LIFE.—I am pained to hear any man say of the wisest and best man living, "I pin my faith to him. I am sure he can never go wrong." My friend, you have a right to repose implicitly in God alone. Man is frail at best, and he was upright and true yesterday may prove false and unworthy to morrow. Cling to truth and justice, though all the world desert and decoy them. Give your conscience eyes, and never fear that it will mislead you. Others may be richer in knowledge and wisdom than you, but a pure and lofty soul has no earthly superior, and should acknowledge none. Hold fast to whatsoever is good; and whatever clouds may for the moment enwrap you and intercept the smile of Heaven, never be so infidel as to doubt that the path of virtue is the only way of safety, the only way that leads to perfect and enduring peace.

WHY HE RAN AWAY.—A New York paper tells us that Tweed ran away to escape from the rapacity of his lawyers. It says: "Why should Tweed run away? The conundrum at first seems a perplexing one. He was living very comfortably; and his lawyers seemed as industrious and thrifty as ever. But that was the very rub. Under their hands his vast possessions were absolutely melting away in the shape of enormous fees. He did not run away from his jailers at all. He ran away from his lawyers. They are entitled to the sincere sympathy of the public in their bereavement.

SURE REMEDY.—Onions are said to be a sure remedy for epizooty in horses. The New England Farmer chronicles a trial of them as follows: "The horse tackled three of the onions immediately, and by the time he had swallowed them began to cough and sneeze and prance about, appearing quite indignant, and refusing to touch the remaining onions. For full five minutes he wept at the nose, and then—he was a cured horse. He has not had a cough, a sneeze, nor any symptoms of the epizooty since."

A MERRY CHRISTMAS.—We wish every reader of the DEMOCRAT a merry Christmas, and many of them in the future.

NEW VOLUME.—The Stanislaus News, published at Modesto, has commenced its ninth volume. It is a consistent, well-conducted, Democratic paper, and one of our best weekly exchanges. We hope its enterprising and deserving publisher will continue to prosper.

THE EARLY GRAIN is all that could be desired up to this point in the season. The Summer-fallowed that was sown before the rains and also the volunteer wheat is looking very fine—thick and even on the ground and of a dark green color. So far everything bids fair for a very favorable harvest next summer.

IMMENSE PAPER.—The San Francisco Spirit of the Times for Christmas consists of twenty pages of very large size. It is admirably gotten up, with illustrations of prominent men and buildings, and the reading matter so selected and compiled as to make it really a representative of our great State. The publishers, Messrs. Chase & Boruck, are deserving of great credit for their enterprise.

NEW PATENTS.—Through dispatches to Dewey & Co., Patent Agents, S. F., we receive the following advanced list of U. S. Patents granted to Pacific Coast inventors, viz: L. Lanszweert, S. F., Cal., gas mixing machine; T. McCaffery, S. F., Cal., thill coupling; J. Eitel, Sacramento, Cal., combined twine cutter, letter opener and stamp moistener; S. M. Williams, S. F., Cal., photographic eye rest; J. D. Culy, Gilroy, Cal., (reissue) knitted bag for packages of compressed vegetable substances; E. M. Dudgeon, S. F., Cal., (reissue,) hydraulic jack; Knarp, Burrell & Co., Portland, Oregon, trademark, threshing machine.

"INTERNATIONAL REVIEW."—This is one of the best publications in this country. The second volume closes with the present year, and the January number, commencing the third volume, will be better than any previously issued. Its writers (for the articles are all original) are all persons of reputation and more or less eminence. Articles will be presented on topics of the day, literary, scientific, social, political and religious, in language and treatment of a kind suited to popular as well as scholarly reading and taste, but will be non-partisan. The February number will contain articles on the conflict between Science and Religion; Retrospective Legislation and Grangerism; Psychology of Murder; and Prof. Proctor, the popular lecturer, will furnish one upon Other Worlds than Ours, and the same author will discuss exhaustively the Structure of the Universe. Other articles will make up a splendid compendium. Published by A. S. Barnes & Co., N. Y.; subscription price $5 a year postage paid.

THE LEGISLATURE.—Just as the Legislature gets into working order they have to adjourn over the holidays, or go contrary to the feelings of every member and also of the people at large. Suppose they remained in session during that festive season, does anyone imagine that any business of importance would be transacted? We do not, but on the contrary, quite the reverse would be likely to be the case. They must of course, in accordance with the immemorable custom adjourn over the turkey-eating season in order that they may go home and play the part of Santa Claus with their families, take recreation from the arduous labors attendant upon the organization of the Legislature, and then, after the holidays, go back refreshed and recuperated in body and mind and with a full knowledge of the wants of their constituents, and ready to do battle in their behalf. The fact is, in our opinion—and we find many hold the same view—that the session ought not to commence till after New Years. Then this long break would'nt occur, and there would be less occasion for finding fault with our Legislators.

ANOTHER FAVORITE.—Work and play is a very bright and attractive magazine, both as regards its literary contents and its illustrations. The December number has a delightful Christmas flavor that the boys and girls will appreciate. Mable Forrester's charming story will set a good many of them to work to make sure of a holiday-time, and the adventurous scenes depicted in the beautifully written narative by the Jules Sandeau will make Oliver Twists of all the boys—"Calling for more." Those who like fairy stories will get rich entertainment here, and those who do not will not have far to look to find what suits them better, whether it be natural history, or travels, or such a sweet song as that of Helen B. Philips which is set off by a most lovely original illustration. The variety furnished in this popular-priced magazine is as remarkable as the excellence of the wood cuts, which are the best that we remember to have seen in a dollar publication, and would not do discredit to those of the highest price. Good paper and printing leave nothing to be desired, and we believe that the third volume, to begin in January, will greatly increase the popularity of this excellent Juvenile. Published at 57 Bible House, New York.

Our Sacramento Letter.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 22d, 1875.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT: During the last week very many bills of a general and important character have been introduced, and a large amount of local legislation has been cut out for future action. We have also passed through the

INAUGURAL BALL,

Which is conceded to have been one of the pleasantest affairs of the kind ever gotten up at the State Capitol. Indeed while there was formality enough to meet the wishes of the most fastidious and elite, there was a genial warmth of feeling evinced and a real heartiness of welcome among guests that made it an exception to the usual "Court balls" of the Capitol City.

THE ARRANGMENTS.

Were perfected in good style. The music was fine, a band played in each of the legislative chambers. There were over 800 present.

THE DRESSES

Were rich and generally in good taste. If there was any fault it was in the trails that were worn by those participating in the dance. These trails are a nuisance in a ball room, and often get the wearer and her partner into trouble, especially while dancing fancy dances.

THE SUPPER

Was recherche in an eminent degree. The meats were of great variety and well cooked. The wines were of fine brands. The adornments of the table were simply elegant, and the attention to the guests was all that the most exacting could desire. There were enough waiters, and consequently no confusion, and there was a welcome extended by those in supervision that made all feel at home.

THE GOVERNOR AND LADY

Came about 12 o'clock P.M., and the genial smile of his Excellency's frank face made all feel that it was good to be there.

THE GOVERNOR'S COTILLION.

His Excellency, Governor Irwin, and the ex-Governors Stanford, Lowe and Pacheco, danced a single dance, and while we looked at them we concluded that there were many of less brains than those composing that set who danced better than they, and that it was not a peculiarly intellectual pass-time. This dance afforded much amusement and evinced a desire on the part of our great men to be sociable.

THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR AND HIS LADY

Were also genial in their intercourse with their friends and exhibited that Democratic frankness which has always characterized Jas. A. Johnson in his intercourse with his fellow citizens. Indeed all who were present seemed determined to enjoy themselves, and we think did so. There was less formality and more sociability than is usual at almost any ball where so large a number are assembled.

THE NEXT DAY

The legislators were nearly all in their seats, and business proceded as usual. The Chambers appeared unlike they did the evening before, and one could hardly realize that he was sitting in the same hall that had been flooded the past evening by the most fashionable and elite of the ladies of this prosperous State, gorgeous in silks, satins and laces, and brilliant with gold and diamonds.

THE SENATE.

About the first business called up was the subject of newspapers and stamps. The aspirants for cheap notoriety, as the advocates of economy, "spread themselves" upon the occasion. "It was a horrible outrage to ask the tax-payers to pay for newspapers for Senators to read. A daily was enough." Now, sir, let me repeat what I have written before, that it is my sincere belief, that there is more information and often better suggestions in regard to the necessities and wishes of the State at large to be obtained from a well edited country paper than from any city daily to be had. The city papers ignore the wants of the country.

As to stamps—why print thousands of reports and let them lie in the Capitol? The circulation of these documents is less expensive than the printing; and rest assured they will not be distributed if legislators have to do it at their own expense. This circulation of documents is not for the members, but for the benefit of the people, and the people should pay for it.

CHAPLAIN.

Another subject that occupied some time was whether prayer should be offered up each morning or not. Laine, Gibbons, Lewis and O'Conor went against employing a Chaplain, and Dr. Martin in favor. It was a close vote, but the preacher lost.

CENTENNIAL.

Mr. Evans presented a lengthy petition and a bill appropriating fifty thousand dollars to enable this State to present a good showing at the 100th birth-day of American Independence. Some Senators will oppose it, but it will ultimately pass.

SPECIAL OR LOCAL LEGISLATION.

There is an unusual amount of this pernicious kind of legislation, though much of the legislation in regard to the city of San Francisco is of such importance as to be of general interest. There have been three bills presented authorizing the Supervisors to complete the City Hall, one each by McCoppin, Bartlett and Noonan.

THE COLLECTION OF TAXES.

There were three bills on this subject, Nos. 3, 4 and 10, which the Judiciary Committee to-day reported upon, recommending that they do not pass. The system will not permit the change of our indebtedness, the schools would be suspended, and some other objections are urged.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

During the past week Mr. McCoppin has introduced a bill on this subject, to prevent the counties and city municipalities from going into debt more than 5 per cent of the value of their taxable property. Mr. Tinnin has also offered a bill amending the Constitution, and one or two more have bills upon the same subject. The Assembly are also proposing the amendment of our fundamental law.

PROTECTION OF SEALS.

Quite a lively little debate occurred to-day on the bill to repeal the act protecting seals in the harbor and in the vicinity of San Francisco. The seals have some friends in the Senate. Mr. Donovan opposed the reference of the bill to the judiciary, on the grounds that there was no law question involved, and that lawyers knew but little of seals—about as much as seals know of lawyers. He made some well-timed remarks about their destroying the fish, and said his sympathy for the poor man and his family was greater than for the sea-lions.

IN ASSEMBLY.

Mr. Archer, Chairman of the Committee on Corporations in the Assembly, introduced a resolution in which he utters the doctrine of the inaugural address of the Governor, and asks that the Committee on Corporations be instructed to bring in a bill in relation to fares and freights. So we may expect this whole subject to be again before the Legislature. Mr. McConnell has introduced a bill in the Assembly to repeal the State Board of Equilization, and Laine in the Senate one to repeal the State Board of Tide Land Commissioners.

SENATE BILLS.

I give a few of the important bills introduced and read a first and second times in the Senate. By Mr. Peirson, a Bill to create a library for the University of California, and to provide a fund therefor. By the same, a bill in relation to partnerships. By Dr. Gibbons, four bills changing the mode of amending the Code. These bills provide that every act or amendment shall state the subject matter in their titles in conformity to the constitution. Mr. Laine introduced a bill to abolish section 869 of the Penal Code and to amend section 870 of the same. Section 869 requires the testimony of witnesses in certain criminal suits to be reduced to writing. Another By Mr. Linsey in reference to official bonds. By Haymond, to amend sec. 783 of the Penal Code of jurisdiction of offences committed on board of vessels. By McGarvey, two acts relating to crime and punishment; one in relation to corporations, and one in relation to lands sold for taxes. By Haymond, to provide a system of irrigation. By Evans, to provide for the sale of incumbered real estate. Tuttle, three acts concerning pubiic Schools. Haymond, Resolved, That the Judiciary Committee of the Senate be instructed to report a bill to prevent the evils arising from land monopoly.

A bill was passed by both houses, originated in the Assembly, appropriating forty-one thousand dollars for the maintenance of the State Printing office—one thousand as a contingent fund.

CONTESTED SEAT.

In the Senate Ward contests the seat of Montgomery, and the committee on elections have been sitting with closed doors for some time. They have counted the votes of the county of Stanislaus, and find that Ward has a majority of two votes. There is something strange in this matter. In the returns that the committee counted in the precint called "Tuolumne" there was but one vote for Montgomery returned to the Senate committee, and General Joe. Hamilton told me he had thirteen men who will swear that they each voted for Montgomery. This makes a difference of twelve in this one precint; The thirteen were counted below and but one to count above. Hamilton and How. ell attorneys for Montgomery, and Terry for Ward. I learn that Montgomery will ask for a recount of the other two counties. If the Committee allow verbal testimony to contradict the record, it will be a lively case. Ward is the straight Democrat and Montgomery Independent Democrat.

And now good bye. I may give you a letter from San Francisco during the holidays. INDEX.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, THAT IN pursuance of the Order of the Probate Court of the County of Yolo, in the State of California, made on the 18th day of December, A.D. 1875, in the matter of the Estate of ANTONE SILVA, deceased, the undersigned, Administrator of said Estate will sell at private sale on or after the FIFTEENTH DAY OF JANUARY, 1876, at the Law Office of J. C. BALL, in Woodland, at which place bids or offers to purchase will be received up to the date of sale, all the right, title, interest and estate of the said decedent at the time of his death, and all the right, title and interest that the said estate has by operation of law or otherwise acquired other than or in addition to that of the said deceased at the time of his death, in and to that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the said County of Yolo, and described as follows, to wit: "Beginning at a point 5 chains west, and 1.60 chains south from the north west corner of section 8, in township 7 north, range 1 east of Mount Diablo Meridian; running thence south 25.03 chains; thence north 84° 40', east 0.91 chains; thence 57° 50', east 5.30 chains; thence north 5° 30', east 7.00 chains; thence north 4° 25', east 5.75 chains; thence north 2° 30', west 5.50 chains; thence north 3° 20', east 5.35 chains; thence north 18° 20', east 34.00 chains; thence north 3° 20', east 4.20 chains; thence west 14.60 chains, to the place of beginning—containing 27.98 acres.

The Estate owns an undivided half interest in said land.

Terms of sale—Cash, gold coin.

JOSEPH SILVA, Administrator.
J. C. BALL, Attorney. de24-4t

INDISPOSED.—We learn that Hon. Jason Watkins, Yolo's member in the Legislature, has been at home sick for a day or two, but that he is now convalescent.

PLEASANT.—The last few days have been delightfully pleasant. Yesterday, however, a fog overspread the valley, making it rather chilly and less agreeable.

TEACHERS IN TOWN.—Professors McConnell and Sturgis, formerly of Hesperian College, and Mr. Templeton, late principal of our public school, are in town visiting their friends.

SCHOOLS.—Hesperian College closed yesterday, and the public school will close to-day for the holidays.

Application for Disincorporation.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF THE COUNTY of Yolo, State of California.

In the matter of the Application of "THE WOODLAND, CLEAR LAKE AND HUMBOLDT RAILROAD COMPANY" for Disincorporation.

To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Whereas, on the 8th day of December, A.D., 1875, "The Woodland, Clear Lake, and Humboldt Railroad Company" presented to Hon. J. A. HUTTON, the Judge of this Court, its Petition praying for the dissolution of said Corporation; and whereas the said Judge, on the 10th day of December, A.D. 1875, duly made an order that said petition be filed by the Clerk, and that notice of the same be given according to law; which said order recited that said petition was in conformity with the provisions of Title VI. of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the said petition is now on file in the office of the Clerk of this Court; and all persons having any objections to the granting of the prayer of said petition are hereby required to present them in writing, and file the same with the Clerk of this Court, on or before MONDAY, THE SEVENTEENTH DAY OF JANUARY, A.D. 1876, or the same will be forever barred.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Court, this 11th day of December, A.D. 1875.

Town and County Matters

BOYS FOR THE NAVY.—We have received from H. U. Ogburn, who has a brother in the service, a pamphlet entitled "Regulations for the Enlistment, Government, and Instruction of Boys on board of the U. S. Naval Training Ships, as authorized by the Circular of the Navy Department, dated April 8th, 1875." According to the regulations, a limited number of boys between the ages of sixteen and seventeen years will be enlisted for training in the Navy until they are twenty-one years of age, at San Francisco and points East. They must be of sound body and mind, of a certain standard of size and height, and be able to read and write. They will be instructed in "the elements of an English education, alternating with practical seamanship and other professional occupations, designed to prepare them for sailors in the Navy." Boys so enlisted will be allowed $10.50 per month and one ration. Here is a chance for boys who complain that they can get nothing to do and are growing up as hoodlums, as well as for others.

WEDDING.—We received an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Burr, of Oakland, to attend the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lizzie F. Burr, to Mr. Frank P Willard, formerly of Woodland, which took place last night, Dec. 23d, 1875, and should have been much pleased to have attended, but were prevented by previous engagements. Frank's many friends in this county will perhaps be surprised to hear of his marriage, but will be glad when we assure them that in "throwing himself away," he has secured a lovely and amaible bride, and, we trust, a happy and glorious future.

WHERE TO LEAVE THEM.—For the information of all who desire to put presents on the Christmas tree for the children, the Principal wishes us to say he would like to have all articles intended for the tree left at the gathering depot, which on this occasion is the White House. The entertainment and tree will be in Washington Hall, Saturday evening—not Christmas eve, as usual.

CHRISTMAS TREE.—The little folks of the public school are looking forward to the Christmas tree at Washington Hall to-morrow (Saturday) night with great interest. We hope there will not be one whose heart will not be made glad with some token of love in the way of a present. Love keeps the heart warm. Then, friends, remember the children, especially the poor ones.

BILLIARDS.—There will be a match game of billiards between two of Woodland's best players at Barr and Simmons' billiard room, in the Craft Hotel, this evening—Christmas Eve, commencing at 7 o'clock sharp. Simmons plays 350 points to Jacobs' 500. It will be interesting to those who know the game.

TURNERS' BALL.—The annual ball of the Turners will take place at their hall opposite the Court House on the last night of the year. The arrangements are all completed and they feel confident that all who favor them with their company will have a good time. All are respectfully invited.

TURKEY.—A. G. Read, Auctioneer, presented us with a fine young turkey for our Christmas dinner. Won't we feast? We trust the big-heartful donor will also, and hope he will never be short of one when the holidays come round. Thanks, Albert.

STRONG INSURANCE COMBINATION. Mr. Chas. T. Bidwell's fire insurance agency now includes the Phœnix, Home, Fireman's Fund, and North British and Mercantile, with aggregate assets amounting to $18,000,000. See his new card in this issue.

ADVENT SERVICES.—Mrs. Ellen G. White will talk to the people at the Advent Church on Saturday at 11 A. M., and Sunday at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Seats free, and all are cordially invited to come and hear.

WILTON.—This indomitable manager and troupe performed in Washington Hall on Saturday and Monday evenings to fair audiences, giving very general satisfaction and doing a reasonably good business.

RAINFALL.—Up to the time of our last report, the rainfall amounted to 4.62 inches. The rain-gauge on the 19th measured a fall for the night previous of .44, making a total to date of 5.06 inches.

RACE.—A trotting race came off on Saturday last, over Brown's Track, between Nellie, Pinto and Lottie. The entrance was $10 each, which formed the stake, and was won by Pinto.

THIEVES ABOUT.—On the night of the 17th, the house of County Recorded Lawson was entered and his pockets picked of $2.50—a small amount for which to run so great a risk.

BALL GAME.—The Silver Star Club of Woodland and a picked nine will play a practice game of ball to-morrow, Christmas Day, at 2 o'clock, near Dr. Pierson's residence.

Our Dixon Correspondence.

DIXON, Dec. 20th, 1875.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—In looking over your paper of last week, I noticed good correspondences from neighboring cities, but missed any from Dixon, and as our town has its news and novelties also, shall try to give a few items.

As the weather has now cleared off and our mother Sun has shown her face again after a thirteen days' absence, every farmer in the neighborhood is now very busy putting in the balance of the season's crop. The prospects for a good harvest next year have certainly never been better.

Our large and beautiful Baptist Church is finished on the outside—the inside will not be finished before next Spring. It is a very handsome structure.

Our friend Hopkins, of the Tribune, is confined to his bed—in fact he has not been out during the last three weeks.

As Christmas is drawing near, our stores are making a fine display of jewelry, fancy goods and toys for the holidays; of course your correspondent expects Santa Claus to bring him something too;—will be satisfied with a gold watch and chain, or some little thing of that sort.

Of balls we will have our share also during the holidays. Mr. Straule will give a ball at Beane's Hall Dec. 25th, and the Frahm Brothers will have a Leap Year Social on Jan. 1st, 1876.

Our friends, the Frahm Brothers, are trying very hard, and will undoubtedly succeed, in getting up a masquerade ball on February 22d, 1876. A good many young folks from Vallejo, Suisun, Fairfield, Vacaville, Winters, Davisville and your town have subscribed already for tickets. It promises to be a very grand affair.

Our people are going to have a Christmas tree, on which occasion the new Baptist Church will be used for the first time.

Business is very good at present; the fact is it has been good all along, since harvest-time. Hoping that I will be able to send you a few items again after the holidays I shall now conclude by wishing you and all your readers a merry Christmas.

Yours, ROMAN.

Irrigation in Prospect.

NEAR WOODLAND, Dec. 22d, 1875.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—As the question of irrigation is becoming so important in different portions of the State—and as the problem has been solved in that portion of Yolo county lying between Cache Creek and Willow Slough—why not agitate the extension of faculties to other portions of the county? The entire county lying south of Cache Creek to Putah Creek and west to the foot-hills, with all north of Cache Creek between the tules and the foot-hills, can be flooded by the waters of Cache Creek. It now being a demonstrated fact that land used for the purpose of alfalfa culture will yield a profit of from $50 to $100 per acre per annum, and raisin grapes—when the vines have reached five years of age, pay a profit of $500 per acre, and when at three years of age pay a good profit—why not arrange at once to bring all the country spoken of above into the condition that will pay so handsome a return to the farmers? The Clear Lake Water Company have constructed a dam across the river in Capay Valley of sufficient strength to hold the water at any season of the year, and have surveyed lines of canal from the dam on both sides of the stream to the plains below. The Company also controls most of the lands on the borders of Clear Lake, so that using the Lake as a reservoir will no longer trouble the residents of the Lake valleys. Would it not be well for the parties owning land to make an effort to get the work continued? The writer feels satisfied that if the farmers would take hold of it at once, arrangements could be made to bring the water on to nearly all parts of the territory described above the coming season.

I would suggest that those interested move in the matter at once by corresponding with the officers of the Company, and then agree upon a course of action. ONE INTERESTED.

FOR PRESENTS.—Our town is well supplied with holiday goods, as may be seen by these columns. At Alexander's may be found a fine assortment of goods and ornaments selected especially for the holidays, Mr. A. taking extra pains to purchase a tasty and pesirable assortment suitable for all classes. Mr. Machefert has laid in a very extensive and costly lot of diamonds, solid gold and silver and other jewelry, watches, chains, solid and plated ware, etc., etc., so that all can be suited. Mr. Green has also a fine stock of jewelry, toys, perfumery, books, etc., from which to select. At Kierski's may also be found an almost endless variety of toys, dolls, and other children's play things, also sweetmeats in great variety and very choice, just what the little folks like. For a fine selection of books suited to all ages and conditions, Simpson's is the place; also stationery, perfumery, handsome ornaments, and a variety of choice and tasty articles. These houses have all made a specialty of laying in a supply of these goods. A number of our other business houses also do something in the line of articles particulary suited for holiday gifts, among them Lewald, Goslinер, Bynum & Co., Nicklesburg & Bro., B. Joseph and Porter & Co.

DANCING PARTY.—There will be a social dance at Central Hall on Monday evening Dec. 27th, which the public are respectfully invited to attend.

GREATEST ATTRACTION FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—The year 1875 has nearly rolled away, and the time is near at hand when parents and sweethearts love to make their children and friends happy by giving them a Christmas present. In looking around town to see what preparations the business houses have made for the holidays, we called at the well known White House, of which A. Alexander is the proprietor, and had the pleasure of seeing the finest display of goods ever exhibited in Woodland. The dry goods department is fitted up in the most elegant style. They have nearly 1000 pieces of dress goods on hand—the heavfest stock we have ever seen in Woodland, and all of the latest styles. It would pay ladies to go and purchase their dress goods at the White House. After we had finished looking over the dry goods department, Mr. Alexander showed us his magnificient stock of the latest styles of ladies' hats and furs and in pricing them we found them to be astonishingly low. Ladies, to satisfy yourselves, go to the White House and price the ladies' trimmed hats; it will surely benefit you. Mr. Alexander has also a very elegant assortment of silver ware suitable for Christmas presents, which he offers at low prices. In fact his assortment of fancy goods for the holidays is the finest selection in town, consisting in part of Chinese, French and German wares, such as work-boxes, vases, albums, etc., etc. Give him a call and see for yourself. 17*4

LADIES' EMPORIUM.—Mrs. Murphy, the well known fashionable millinер, of Sacramento, wishes to call the attention of the ladies of Woodland and vicinity to her fine stock of millinery just received, consisting of all the new shades in velvets, silks, feathers and birds. Remember the old stand—165 J street, between 6th and 7th, Sacramento. 17*4

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.—A special from Washington Dec. 11th, says the Democrats are generally accepting the idea of a constitutional amendment prohibiting the support of sectarian schools out of public money, and at a meeting of the Democratic Association of the District of Columbia last night the first steps toward such a movement were taken, by the introduction of resolutions reciting that the free school system of the United States is a bright star in the galaxy of the Republic, and on its maintenance and perpetuity depend the present and future of the American people; that the Democratic party has at all times and hereafter will resist any and all attempts looking to a division of the public school fund, no matter for what purpose; that the Democratic party has been, is now, and always will be, in favor of free schools, a free press, free speech, free trade, and gold and silver as the only constitutional money of the nation; paper money being the illegitimate offspring of the Republican party. It is well known to the nation at large that the only fatal blow ever attempted to be struck at the free schools of this country was by the Republican party in Congress, when it endeavored to mix white and black children in the same schools; that no State shall make any law respecting the establishment of any religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; and no money raised by taxation for the support of public schools, or derived from any public fund therefor, shall ever be under the control of any religious sect; nor shall any money so raised ever be divided between religious sects or denominations.

AN INDIAN FUNERAL.—Last week, Rancheria Jim, a big Chief among the Digger Indians of these parts who has lived at Rancheria, took sick in Sutter Creek and died. The subjects of the deceased warrior determined to bury their Chieftain in civilized fashion with becoming dignity. They had a $30 coffin made, in which they placed all that was left of Jim. The mourners gathered from all points to take part in one of the most picturesque funerals ever witnessed in the country. A hearse and carriage were hired, the latter being occupied by the chief mourners, without boots on their feet, or hats on their heads, their ragged garments fluttering in the breeze. Some three score Indians on foot were drawn up behind, and in this order the procession moved out of Sutter Creek to Rancheria, the place of interment. The costly casket and trappings of the hearse and carriage were in strange contrast with the ragged appearance of the bronze-faced mourners, and the whole affair presented as comical a blending of the solemn and the laughable as can be well imagined.

THE DEMOCRACY ON TRIAL.—On a recent occasion in Washington, Senator Wallace of Pennsylvania said the Forty-fourth Congress had now been entrusted to the Democracy, and it was for them to prove their ability, in lessening the burdens of an oppressed and over-taxed people, to stop the leaks and punish wrong-doers. Economy must mark every step, and the Government be administered for the benefit of all sections. The Democracy were about to enter upon their trial. The people themselves were the judges. It was for Democrats in Congress to prove their fitness for the high places to which they were called. They must be governed by statesmanship, deep and wide enough to cover every section and the great interests of all. Judgment and discretion must mark their pathway.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT.—This affair came off at the M. E. Church last Sunday evening and was well attended, the house being full. We were not present, but learn that all who took part in the singing and other exercises acquitted themselves well. The collection amounted to $15.

NEW TRACK.—We learn that Mr. Everett intends making a new track on his place near the brick yard, next summer, for racing and training.

HOW TO AMUSE THE CHILDREN.—Parents are often at a loss to find amusement for the young people, which will at the same time instruct their minds, cultivate the taste, and give them an appreciation for the beautiful. A new and interesting art has recently been introduced to the public called "Decalcomanie," or Transfer Pictures. These Pictures are printed on prepared paper, in many colors and sizes, of almost every variety of subject, such as Hands, Landscapes, Flowers, Autumn Leaves, Insects, Comic Figures, etc., which can be instantly and permanently transferred to almost any article one may wish to ornament, such as Fans, Work Boxes, Vases, Flower Pots, Furniture and various articles of household use. When transferred these pictures, in beauty of color and artistic design, rival the most beautiful painting. The art is easily acquired, and children even soon become experts: the process of decorating articles with these pictures is novel, ingenious and highly interesting to young and old. The manufacturers of these pictures, Messrs. J. L. Patten & Co., 102 William Street, New York, offer to send, by mail postpaid, ten selected samples of these pictures, full instructions for transferring the same, with 24 page catalogue, for ten cents, or for fifty cents they will send one hundred attractive pictures.

We Can't Talk

Without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them let us use that standard dentifrice, SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless. No tartar can encrust them, no canker affect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if SOZODONT is regularly used. It is a botanical preparation, and its beneficial effects on the teeth and gums are marvelous, as it removes all discolorations, and renders the gums hard and rosy.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1876 for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, in the English German, French, Norwegian, Welsh, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter and the professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent. stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood. The Bitters are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

HARPER'S BAZAR.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Bazar is edited with a combination of tact and talent that we seldom find in any journal; and the journal itself is the organ of the great world of fashion.—Boston Traveller.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the young ladies by its fashion-plates in endless variety, to the prudent matron by its patterns for the children's clothes, to paterfamilias by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fireside enjoyment it affords.—N. Y. Evening Post.

In its way there is nothing like it. Fresh and trustworthy as a fashion guide, its stories and essays, its poetry and squibs, are all invigorating to the mind.—Chicago Evening Journal.

The Yolo Democrat.

[WRITTEN FOR THE YOLO DEMOCRAT.]

Moro.

[This is the name of a small town in San Luis Obispo County on the sea coast at the outlet of Moro Bay. Close by it is the celebrated Moro Rock, which is the highest and most prominent land-mark on this coast.]

Let me live and linger, for I love to be
By the great gray rock, by the sundown sea,
Where a bay is bordered by the brown bur clover,
And tides turn in as the world turns over;
And men are busy as bees in a bevy,
Looking for ships that are heavy laden;
Where the wind blows hard and the waves are heavy,
Flouncing about like like a dancing maiden;
And the proud sea rolls like a steed distressed,
Plashing and dashing in a deep unrest.

Here let me linger, forever, where
Men are true as the maids are fair,
And both are true as the heavens are blue,
And pull together as good steeds do,
With never a whimsical sorrow or care.

Men of old built temples of gold,
Rolling in splendor and wealth untold.
These temples tumbled and crumbled and hid
Their jeweled spires neath a coffin's lid,
The same as the hands that fashioned them did.
But long ago when the earth was free
The gods built a temple by the sunset sea,
Whose form is a type of the true, sublime,
Untouched by the terrible hand of time.
Men call it Moro, but what is the odds,
If I call it a temple of the ancient gods?

So, come and linger on the rock alone,
And listen to the song of the old gray stone,
As it sings of the past in an undertone.

O rock by the sea! O sea where the sun
Bathes in the tide when the day is done!
I bow the head and bend the knee in praise
And prayer before thee always—always.

General Items.

A Marysville orange tree has upon it 1,000 oranges.

The marble statue of General Baker was shipped from Florence, Nov. 19th, for the United States.

Last week the duties collected on imports at the San Francisco Custom-house amounted to $140,920 30.

In Huansta, Peru, during the late election, a riot took place and twenty persons were killed and a large number wounded.

Drury Melone, ex-Secretary of State, will remain in Sacramento for the present, but contemplates a trip to the East in the Spring.

The Georgetown Miner says that Colorado may safely be put down for $16,000,000 in gold and silver this year, and $20,000,000 in 1876.

It is announced that ex-Governor Pacheco will take up his residence in San Francisco, where he will engage in commercial business.

Complete returns of the election in New York give Bigelow (Dem.) 590,193, and Seward (Rep.) 575,391, a Democratic majority of 14,842.

San Francisco is now paying for lighting her streets $276,000 a year, while Sacramento's streets are lighted for less than $10,000 per annum.

There will be twenty-four contested seats in the Lower House of Congress, nine being occupied by Democrats and fifteen by Republicans.

Harrington, the thin brained youth, who attempted murder at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco recently, tried to hang himself a few days ago.

The steamer Sunnyside sunk in the Hudson river, at West Point, N. Y., on the morning of the 1st, by being cut with ice. Twelve persons were drowned.

The Leader is the title of a Democratic morning journal that is now being issued in Sacramento, under the editorial control of Mrs. Laura De Force Gordon.

Judah P. Benjamin, formerly of New Orleans, is said to be making a fortune in London, where he is established as a lawyer. His income is said to be £10,000 per year.

A dispatch from Bremen Haven, states that at the late explosion sixty-eight persons were killed and thirty-eight wounded; another account (official) says sixty killed and forty wounded.

The University of California now affords instruction to 312 students. The staff of instructors number 30. Its annual revenue, as reported, is $95,000. The revenue required is $128,000.

W. G Speir, confidential clerk and business manager of R. H. McDonald & Co., formerly of Sacramento, and now manufacturers of a well known bitters in New York, has absconded and is a defaulter to the amount of $40,000.

In a late boat race in Callao harbor between the crews of the United States steamer Richmond and a Peruvian man-of-war, for two miles and a purse of $2,000 in gold, the Peruvians were successful. Their boat was 700 pounds lighter.

The latest reports from the southern guano deposits in Peru are still more encouraging. The quality of the fertilizer is steadily improving, as the excavations are deepened, and the facilities for loading reach one thousand tons daily.

The recent high waters detained the Chico and Colusa stage three days, while the Chico and Newville stage was compelled to remain at Newville a whole week. The river and creeks were all at high water mark, and the sloughs were spreading their waters all over the plains.

Andrew Dillon, the man who was employed on the Parks dam, and who stabbed a Chinawoman and killed a Ching boy in Marysville, was found guilty of murder in the Second degree, and Judge Keyser sentenced him, on Saturday, to a term of fifteen years in the State Prison.

Mrs. J. Allen eloped from Los Angeles with D. J. Dingman, who also left a family behind, and the pair took passage for San Francisco on the Orizaba. They were intercepted in Santa Barbara, and disembarked in custody of an officer. The lady was found secreted in a state room, arrayed in male attire.

The sick man is convalescent—Turkey is preparing for war. The Government has ordered a levy of 100,000 men besides a contribution from Egypt of 22,000 and from Tunis of 8,000. The Government has informed the Suez Canal Company that it considers the management of the Canal satisfactory and has no intention to interfere.

Forty-four Syracuse ladies, living on one street, subscribed $3 apiece toward the purchase of books, which are circulated regularly from house to house until all have read them. No member is allowed to keep a book over one week. A year's reading is secured by this method, and at the end of the year the books are sold at half their cost.

An exchange has this: "For the benefit of those who are in the habit of placing stamps on various parts of envelopes we would state that the Department has ordered all letters to be sent to the Dead Letter Office which have no stamps on the proper place—the upper right hand corner." The law appears to be rather stringent, but it is law nevertheless.

Detectives are still hunting for Tweed. The Police Department and the Sheriff's officers are following up numerous clues obtained, but as yet there are no tidings of the missing "Boss" of the Tammany "Ring." The Police are not very confident of his restoration to Ludlow Street Jail, and the general belief is that Tweed is far beyond the reach of the law.

The telegraph informs us that the House of Representatives has adopted a resolution against a third term by a vote of 123 to 18, six negro members voting in the negative, and only twelve white Radicals voted to sustain the impudent pretensions of the "great smoker," while the remainder of his former followers in the House, deliberately snubbed him.

Orrin Collier, of Sacramento, has just completed and patented an invention in the shape of a power for driving sewing machines. It consists of a combination of springs arranged in clock-work style, and governed by a lever so nicely that the needle will move at any desired rate of speed. The machine can be wound up like a clock, and will run about an hour and a quarter.

SOME OF THE FINEST CABINET ORGANS

NO MORE REEDY, HARSH TONES.

THE WARREN & CLOUGH COMBINATION ORGAN.

New and Wonderful Invention.

The newly invented SCRIBNER PATENT "QUALIFYING TUBES," (Secured by letters patent in the United States, England and Canada.) An invention having a MOST IMPORTANT BEARING on the future reputation of Reed Instruments. By means of which the quantity or VOLUME of tone is VERY LARGELY INCREASED, and the QUALITY of tone rendered equal to that of the best Pipe Organs of the same capacity—thus furnishing all the desirable characteristics of the large Church Pipe Organ, in a case the size of an ordinary Cabinet or Parlor Organ, and at the moderate price of Reed Organs. By means of this invention, an Organ containing two sets of reeds becomes equal in volume and power, and VASTLY SUPERIOR IN QUALITY AND BRILLIANCY OF TONE to an ordinary Reed Organ of six or eight sets of reeds. One of the crowning features of this invention is the peculiar facility with which it adapts the tone of the instrument to ACCOMPANY THE VOICE IN SINGING, the effect upon both singer and listener being charming beyond description. This ingenious invention consists in the construction and application of tubes of wood or metal, placed so as to operate in connection with the reeds, each tube having an opening on the upper side at the rear end, through which the air, subsequently passing through the reed, enters, and through which the sound produced by the vibration of the reed escapes. The tubes inclosing the reeds of the treble are provided with adjustable valves or slides, over the mouth opening, by means of which the tubes may be tuned in unison with reeds, to produce a flute-like tone, such as found heretofore only in pipe Organs.

It Pays! It Pays!!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

IT PAYS the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive; one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American,

which has been published weekly for the last thirty years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated, and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical and Scientific Progress of the World; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings, of New Inventions, New implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Receipes, Suggestions and Advice, by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past Thirty Years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the World.

The practical receipts are well worth ten times the subscription price. And for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1876.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms, Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined and advice free. A special notice is made in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN of all Inventions Patented through the Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. Send for Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents. A bound volume containing the PATENT LAWS, CENSUS OF THE U. S., and 142 ENGRAVINGS of mechanical movements. Price, Twenty-Five Cents.

THE WEEKLY SUN.

1776. NEW YORK. 1876.

Eighteen hundred and seventy-six is the Centennial year. It is also the year in which an Opposition House of Representatives, the first since the war, will be in power at Washington; and the year of the twenty-third election of a President of the United States. All of these events are sure to be of great interest and importance, especially the two latter; and all of them and everything connected with them will be fully and freshly reported and expounded in THE SUN.

The Opposition House of Representatives, taking up the line of inquiry opened years ago by the SUN, will sternly and diligently investigate the corruptions and misdeeds of Grant's administration; and will, it is to be hoped, lay the foundation for a new and better period in our national history. Of all this THE SUN will contain complete and accurate accounts, worthy information upon these absorbing topics.

The twenty-third Presidential election, with the preparations for it, will be memorable as deciding upon Grant's aspirations for a third term of power and plunder, and still more as deciding who shall be the candidate of the party of Reform, and as electing that candidate. Concerning all these subjects, those who read THE SUN will have the constant means of being thoroughly well informed.

THE WEEKLY SUN, which has attained a circulation of over eighty thousand copies, already has its readers in every State and Territory, and we trust that the year 1876 will see their numbers doubled. It will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the general news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of moment; and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and instructive manner.

It is our aim to make the WEEKLY SUN the best family newspaper in the world, and we shall continue to give in its columns a large amount of miscellaneous reading, such as stories, tales, poems, scientific intelligence and agricultural information, for which we are not able to make room in our daily edition. The agricultural department, especially, is one of its prominent features. The fashions are also regularly reported in its columns; and so are the markets of every kind.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages with fifty-six broad columns is only $1.20 a year, postage prepaid. As this price barely repays the cost of the paper, no discount can be made from the rate to clubs, agents, Postmasters, or anyone.

The DAILY SUN, a large four page newspaper of twenty-eight columns, gives all the news for two cents a copy. Subscription, postage prepaid, 55c a month or $6.50 a year. SUNDAY edition extra, $1.10 per year. We have no traveling agents. Address,

PROCLAMATION.

CHICAGO AND NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY.

THE POPULAR ROUTE OVERLAND.

Passengers for Chicago, Niagara Falls, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Montreal, Quebec, New York, Boston, or any point East, should buy their

Transcontinental Tickets

VIA THE PIONEER ROUTE,

—THE—

CHICAGO AND NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY.

THIS IS THE BEST ROUTE EAST.

Its Track is of STEEL RAILS, and on it has been made the FASTEST time that has ever been MADE in this country. By this route passengers for points east of Chicago have choice of the following lines from Chicago:

BY THE PITTSBURG, FORT WAYNE AND CHICAGO, AND PENNSYLVANIA RAILWAYS.

3 THROUGH TRAINS DAILY, with Pullman Palace Cars through to Philadelphia and New York on each train.

1 THROUGH TRAIN, with Pullman Palace Cars to Baltimore and Washington.

BY THE LAKE SHORE AND MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILWAY AND CONNECTIONS (NEW YORK CENTRAL AND ERIE RAILROADS):

2 THROUGH TRAINS DAILY, with Palace Drawing Room and Silver Palace Sleeping Cars through to New York.

BY THE MICHIGAN CENTRAL, GRAND TRUNK, GREAT WESTERN AND ERIE AND NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILWAYS:

3 THROUGH TRAINS, Pullman Palace Drawing Room and Sleeping Cars through to New York, to Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Rochester, or New York city.

BY BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD:

2 THROUGH TRAINS DAILY with Pullman Palace Cars for Newark, Zanesville, Wheeling, Washington and Baltimore without change.

This is the SHORTEST, BEST and only line running Pullman celebrated PALACE SLEEPING CARS AND COACHES, connecting with Union Pacific Railroad at OMAHA and from the WEST, via Grand Junction, Marshall, Cedar Rapids, Clinton, Sterling and Dixon, for CHICAGO AND THE EAST.

This popular route is unsurpassed for Speed, Comfort and Safety. The smooth, well-ballasted and perfect track of steel rails, the celebrated Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars, the perfect Telegraph System of moving trains, the regularity with which they run, the admirable arrangement for running through cars to Chicago from all points West, secure to passengers of all the comforts in modern Railway traveling. No changes of Cars and no tedious delays at Ferries.

Passengers will find Tickets via this Favorite Route at the General Ticket Office of the Central Pacific Railroad, Sacramento.

Tickets for sale in all the Ticket Offices of the Central Pacific Railroad.

TOOK THE MEDAL

—AT THE—

STATE FAIR.

WITH FOUR COMPETITORS.

SACRAMENTO, (Cal.), Sept. 14, '75.

This is to certify that the MATHUSHEK PIANOS we are using, and purchased of MR. COOPER, give good satisfaction, standing in tune and wearing remarkably well, and we are well pleased with them. We think they are good and honestly made, and deserve especial notice.

HERMON PERRY,
Prin. Sacramento Seminary.

ST. JOSEPH CONVENT, SISTERS OF MERCY, Sacramento, }

We are using quite a number of the MATHUSHEK PIANOS, and consider them very superior instruments. They give very great satisfaction, and we wish that all our pianos were of the same make. We have tried the principal makers, and consider the Mathushek Piano superior for fullness of tone and durability. SISTERS OF MERCY.

[A CARD.]

This is to certify that I have sold large numbers of the MATHUSHEK PIANOS for over four years, and not one has ever failed. They keep in tune and wear better than all others, and exceed the expectations of purchasers, which has led to increase the demand for them. For information, call, and do not be led by interested parties to purchase certain Pianos you would soon after desire to change for Mathushek. They took the ONLY MEDAL at the State Fair, with four competitors. I have no idea of giving up the agency, as reported by interested parties. Hundreds have been sold, and I have numerous testimonials concerning their superiority, which I will show you with pleasure; many have been published heretofore. Call and see them.

JOHN F. COOPER.

Cabinet Organs of the best makers, and also some new cheap Pianos, from $300 up; a lot of second-hand Pianos. Pianos sold on installments, if desired. Pianos to Rent. Write or call on JOHN F. COOPER, corner Sixth and I streets Sacramento. se24
